Professional Excellence in Housing Awards 2011

Explanation of Award Categories

Individual Awards

Inspirational Colleague

The winning candidate will be a person who consistently shows a willingness to add value over and above their official role, and who motivates others by the approach they take to their work. They will demonstrate a commitment to developing the effectiveness of others and to building better futures through leadership, partnership and involvement. They will, either formally or informally, act as a mentor to others engaged in social housing.

Outstanding Achievement

The winning candidate will be a housing professional who has made a strong impact on social housing over a number of years of committed professional service. Their work will demonstrate the enormous difference one person can make to the profession, a place or an issue. They will uphold the highest standards in social housing delivery and management, and have an exceptional capacity to effect change, in policy directions and/or practice, to increase the wellbeing of clients and colleagues.

Team Awards

Leading Innovation

This Award is for groups or teams who have undertaken an initiative or project that has led to significant change in their own organisation or community, with lessons that could be applied more broadly to other housing.

Leading Practice

Appropriate, safe and affordable housing makes a quantifiable difference to people's lives. This award is for housing professionals, who have shown a particular commitment to developing and delivering real benefits for clients. They will work creatively and efficiently to achieve long-term positive results for people in housing need.

They will find practical housing (and support) solutions that ensure that tenancies for clients with special needs are readily available and no more likely to fail than any others. Their partnerships and housing practice will engage housing managers, asset managers, support workers and other professionals in a team approach to meeting needs and maximising the quality of the housing response.

Leading Housing Solutions

Housing Practitioners contribute not only to direct client outcomes but also to outcomes for communities, including amenity, physical environment, social mix and sustainability.

The winning group or team will have undertaken or been a major participant in significant work to deliver positive and lasting outcomes for communities through a housing response. The scale of the work need not be large but the ideas behind it should be. The winning candidates will be able to demonstrate that they have made a difference for a whole community in one or more of the following areas: sustain or regenerate neighbourhoods; integrate communities; make neighbourhoods safer; build the capacity of the community; invigorate the community through the development of services and employment; environmentally sustainable development; and/or environmentally sensitive housing management.

Individual or Team Award

Tenant Led Initiative

The winning candidate will be an individual or a group of residents or tenants who have undertaken a project or initiative to benefit others in their community. They will have involved others in identifying issues, making plans and taking action. Their project or initiative will have achieved real outcomes (such as creating networks, empowering and/or involving a community) and provide a model for other resident or tenant groups to learn from. They will be effective in finding an appropriate balance between the needs of individual clients, the needs of their community and the sustainability of their housing service.
